

extraordinary. Just a few metres in the door, and you're a 1000 kilometres to the South. The gallery in the inner courtyard could very well be in Seville, were it not for the historical lift, a testimony of Swiss elevator design. In turn, the Jugendstilsaal with its classic ceiling frescos, chandelier and exquisite parquet flooring is totally central-European in style. The hotel rooms are pleasantly matter-of-fact, so our guests can write their own unique stories. All about enjoyment. All about architecture. The exterior of the Atrium-Hotel Blume is a remarkable architectural monument in itself. Step inside and you'll find the interior is even more
